

THE WHITE HOUSE

THIS IS PROBABLY
OUR ONLY
REALISTIC OPTION
BECAUSE IT WOULD GIVE PENCE AN OUT.

- JOHNNY

PENCE CAN LET THE STATES DECIDE

- The VP doesn't need to declare Trump the winner, or to reject ALL the ballots of a disputed state...
- There is a middle path that is a way out for everybody
- On January 6th, the VP could only accept HALF the electoral votes from the disputed states, instead of all. The justification being this mirrors the popular vote of the state so no one is disenfranchised¹
- Pence then explains that given the serious evidence of fraud, Winner-Takes-All would not be appropriate for the remaining half
- Accordingly, Pence announces he is not rejecting them, but giving state legislatures 10 days to confirm them
- Each Governor would then be forced to convene their legislatures or forfeit half their electoral votes
- During those 10 days, we would build public support
- The state legislatures will have cover because even if they award half to Trump, or do nothing, no one hits 270 so it goes to the House²
- The House of Representatives has decided Presidential Elections before, there is precedent³

¹ Due to the Electoral College Act, certain procedural steps may be necessary to execute, but they are attainable

² The Disputed States are WI (10) MI (16) PA (20) GA (16) AZ (11) NV (6)

³ See the Presidential Elections of 1800, 1824, and 1876

Washington is being inundated with people who don't want to see an election victory stolen by emboldened radical left democrats. Our country has had enough, they won't take it anymore! We hear you (and love you) from the Oval Office!

I hope the Democrats, and even more importantly, the weak and ineffective RINO section of the Republican Party, are looking at the thousands of people pouring into the city. They won't stand for a landslide election victory to be stolen.
