

Mark >

What do you think the campaign wants to list of electors for? I'll send it to them in about a half hour when I'm back on my computer.

I dunno. Clayton just called me. Did he call you too?
I told him outright that I hope they are not planning on asking us to do anything like try and say we are the only proper electors. He said he didn't think so.
I also know that the legal team has a case where a state appointed two sets of electors bc an election was in question. It would take a court ruling.
I am def concerned about their inquiry.

Who are you sending it to?

Clayton. Want me to not find it? Rnc Legal has the list anyway

Can you do it without contact information and if he asks for that say you are looking for that version. Let's see how much pressure they put on to try and get contact info. That will give us an indication.

Ok

Shouldn't they work with Troupis?

Keep you out?

Be honest with you, I'm starting to run a little low on tolerance for some of this.
my understanding is Sidney Powell has been shit canned from the legal team, so I am not planning to bother calling them back Thoughts?

Better yet. The whole vm sounds shady

Mark >

bother calling them back

Thoughts?

Better yet. The whole vm sounds shady

Plus he pulled the whole, call two times in a row bullshit

Nov 27, 2020, 1:35 PM

Left you a rambling voicemail and interested in your take.

Nov 27, 2020, 7:00 PM

Tap to Download

Kim Jorns.vcf
0.3 KB

"We're going to the state legislatures," @RudyGiuliani says on Newsmax. "The public has only a small idea of the kind of evidence that we have."

Jennifer Jacobs
twitter.com

Sigh

Exactly

iMessage

Mark >

Dec 4, 2020, 9:14 AM

From Joe Olson:
We are going to need our electors to vote on the 14th
They need to do it at the capital, the legislature doesn't need to take any formal action. The vote just needs to happen at the capital and be recorded somehow.

Ok. We will work on reserving a hearing room.

We may need a court reporter there to make a record of it. I am asking Joe. I probably am going to want this scripted out and know exactly what to say and run it. In other words, I need a little more hand holding than normal because I have never seen this meeting occur and we won't have the benefit of WEC helping us is my guess.

From joe:
We used Brown and Jones for the recount. There good. A court reporter is a good idea, but the electors should also create some kind of form/certificate that memorializes the vote. If any of our electors have done it before, they'll have an idea of what that should look like.

Shouldn't an attorney from, say a campaign affected by this, come up with a form that passes legal muster for us? We can draw one up. I'm looking at a form that Brad Courtney is signing but it's a photo from a Google search of the 2016 ceremony and not readable. And I can have Chaz do it. But that doesn't mean it's going to comply to anything.

Going to try to find the 2016 Wisconsin Eye clip of the electoral vote ceremony.

Yes. We should have them review but if we could try and Mimic past form to show them would be good

Ok

How are your days off going

Eh but it's fine. Christmas trip is my priority.

Stacy is still sleeping. Going west works well because I can get up early and work before she gets up.

Camera, App Store, iMessage, Voice Recorder